Time to Protest Tax Exemption Is Before Giving Pledge

A development in Pulaski county could well press the panic button for Arkansas' industrialization program.

As you read in this newspaper Wednesday the Associated Press reported the Pulaski County School Board (rural Pulaski) has ordered its attorney to file suit to invalidate the tax-exempt status of industrial plants financed by Act 9 bonds.

The attorney, John I. Purtle, was authorized to file suit within 30 days if "negotiations with the industries failed to produce satisfactory results"—which you can spell out as being a demand that the tax-exempt plants agree to at least pay school taxes.

But I don't believe the school board is going to get anywhere with either the industries or the courts. The time for protests against tax exemption passed long ago.

Elections were held, bonds were authorized and sold, and industries were brought into Arkansas on the solemn pledge they would be exempt from taxes during their early years. To welch on such an obligation would never be permitted by the people of Arkansas.

The rural Pulaski school district is always in some kind of trouble, and its latest move smells of an attempt to blackmail the entire state into aiding its financial condition on the stipulation that it will call off its witch-hunt against industry.

But this particular blackmail won't work. Obviously the industries have already rejected the plea for school taxes.

I don't believe the courts will overthrow Act 9 at this late day. Even if they should rule against tax-exemption for new industry the people would promptly pass a constitutional amendment and wrap up the case once and for all.

Act 9 doesn't present the usual vulnerability of a tax exemption. The theory here is that while a new industry coming into a community may be free of taxes in its early years it either brings with it new population as employees, or upgrades the earning power of local people as it takes unskilled people into the plant and teaches them new skills. These people pay taxes.

The point is this: That while the plant itself pays no taxes its employees materially increase the tax take of the county.

That was the thinking behind Act 9 when it was written into law; the people are still of the same mind—and if you don't believe it just wait for the howl of indignation if the courts rule against the act. A constitutional amendment would follow instantly.

AASC Convention Opens Here Thursday

Yesterday, at Jones Field House, the annual AASC convention began with registration at 1:00 p.m. and finished up the day with a Howdy Doody show at the coliseum.

Howdy Doody began at 9:00 p.m. after the campaign speeches and was emceed by Hope student council vice-president Mike Huckabee and sponsor Tim Strawn.

A show set in the time of the 1950's, a skit with a motorcycle gang called Angels Vahn Rat and his Rat Pack was acted out for the delegates to the convention and everyone was also treated with numbers by Teddy Bee and the Stingers, a group from Ouachita Baptist University at Arkadelphia.

Today's activities are discussion sessions and general assemblies at the First Baptist Church, and then voting, before a banquet tonight and a dance afterwards.

The dance is for delegates to the AASC convention only and the guest group will be Saint James from Little Rock. The convention will end Saturday morning with checking out time.

There are 94 schools attending the convention without listing Hope High School, the host for the convention this year, and 226 delegates, not listing sponsors and HHS student council members.

Average Family Income in Hempstead $5,457

Average family income was $5,457 in Hempstead County, Arkansas in 1969, compared with $6,273 for the State, according to a report on the 1970 census by the Bureau of the Census, U.S. Department of Commerce. Per capita income for the county amounted to $1,950, the report shows.

The 1970 census counted 19,308 residents in the county; 0.1 percent were foreign born and 0.8 percent native born with one or both parents of foreign birth. Among the county's 17,831 inhabitants age 5 and over in 1970, 1,241 were living in a different county within the State in 1965, and 1,557 in a different State.

In the population age 16 and over, 70.8 percent of the men and 38.6 percent of the women were in the labor force. Among the employed, 29.5 percent were holding white collar jobs, and 16.5 percent were government workers.

About 40.8 percent of the married women with husband present were in the labor force, and 35.6 percent of these wives had children under six.

There were 4,443 persons 3 to 34 years old enrolled in school. In the 25-and-older population, 35.5 percent of the men and 37.8 percent of the women were high school graduates.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Walker Water Association (Columbia County) has received approval of a $3,000 loan and a $3,000 grant from the Farmer's Home Administration.

'End Men' Will Entertain at Annual Kiwanis Show Tonight

Above are the six so-called "End Men" and the new interlocutor who will perform Friday night in the 29th showing of the Kiwanis Annual Show Friday night at 8:00, in the City Hall Auditorium. Left to right are: Horace "Lightening" Fuller; Eddie "Axel Grease" Whitman; Guy "Perpetual" Grigg; Center Interlocutor, Larry Patterson; Andy "Short Stuff" Caldwell; Jim "Eight Ball" Tate; and Harry "Mishap" Hawthorne.

There are many acts in the show that will please and make everyone laugh. This year's cast has exceptional talent.

Through the years the Kiwanis Club has raised and spent thousands of dollars for the youth of Hope. The latest project was the light system at the park that cost just under $2,000. One of the club's most outstanding projects was planning and paying for K-Park and there have been many.

Only public support keeps the program going. Hope residents should show appreciation Friday night with a full-house.

Most of Capital of An Loc Recaptured, Bombers Flood Skies

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Counter-attacking South Vietnamese troops were reported tonight to have recaptured virtually all of the provincial capital of An Loc.

Enemy rockets exploded in a Saigon suburb, killing 15 Vietnamese civilians and wounding 6, bringing the war to the capital for the first time in the current offensive.

Battlefield reports from An Loc, 60 miles north of Saigon, said government troops were reinforced with 400 paratroops and aided by heavy U.S. B52 strikes in the counterattack that latest reports said had retaken all but two blocks of the city.

Earlier, the Vietnamese high command said the enemy had been forced back outside the city limits after seizing the northern part of the provincial capital in a tank-led assault Thursday.

An unknown number of 100 pound rockets slammed into northern Saigon around Tan Son Nhut airbase. All but one fell off the base into civilian housing. It was here the 15 persons died and at least six others were wounded. There was no reported damage or casualties from the lone rocket that hit inside the big air base.

The skies over North Vietnam suddenly cleared today and waves of U.S. jets streaked in for heavy attacks north of the demilitarized zone.

The bombing has been seriously hampered by heavy monsoon clouds restricting attempts to hit enemy troops, tanks and supply columns heading south toward the DMZ. The weather was termed the best yet for American pilots who had resumed bombing the north April 6.

Radio Hanoi claimed six U.S. jets were shot down during the raids. It said at least four North Vietnamese provinces were attacked, giving some idea of the scope of the aerial offensive.

15 Himalayan Climbers Killed

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — Fifteen Asian climbers have been killed in the worst tragedy in the history of Himalayan exploration.

Four South Koreans, a Japanese cameraman and 10 Nepalese Sherpa guides were buried Monday by an avalanche that crashed down on the camp of a South Korean expedition attempting to scale 26,752-foot Mt. Manaslu, the world's eighth tallest peak.

Seven Koreans and two Sherpas survived.

The expedition leader, Jung Sup Kim, was lifted from a glacier by helicopter and flown back to Katmandu along with Hae Yun Byong, a 33-year-old Korean newsman in the party, and one of Kim's brothers who was critically injured in the avalanche.

One of the dead Korean mountaineers also was a brother of the Kims. A fourth Kim brother, Ki Sup Kim, was swept away by strong wind and killed last year, 1,100 feet from the summit of Manaslu.

Byong said he was at Camp 2, with Jung Sup Kim and four other Korean climbers when about 200 tons of ice rumbled down about 3 a.m. and engulfed the forward camp 2,110 feet above them. It was at 21,320 feet.

"We saw a small dot about two kilometers from Camp 2 and at first thought it was a crevasse, but then it turned out to be an avalanche," Byong said.

The dead were caught asleep in tents. Byong said the injured Kim brother, Yae Sup Kim, was inside the camp toilet when the avalanche struck and was pitched 3,500 feet down the mountain. Two Sherpas shoveling snow outside the tents also survived, he added.

The worst previous Himalayan accident occurred on a 1969 expedition. Five Americans and two Sherpas perished in an avalanche while attempting to climb the 26,810-foot Mt. Dhaulagiri.

Apollo 16 Ready for Takeoff on Sunday

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Thirteen months of intense training ends today for the Apollo 16 astronauts, then they'll relax a day before taking off for the moon on Sunday.

John W. Young, Charles M. Duke Jr. and Thomas K. Mattingly II plan to spend most of the day in spaceship trainers, rehearsing as they have so many times the critical separation of the two spaceships, descent to the moon, liftoff from the surface and rendezvous and docking.

Young and Duke, who are to become the ninth and 10th Americans to walk on the moon, will be in the lunar module simulator and Mattingly in the command ship trainer.

This is the last day of training for the Apollo 16 crew, which was selected for the mission March 3, 1971.

On Saturday, they'll take the day off for relaxation in their crew quarters. They indicated they probably would spend some of that day reviewing the complex flight plan which is to take Young and Duke to the first landing in the moon's mountainous highlands.

They are to land near the crater Descartes in the highest region on the front side of the moon. Scientists believe this mountainous area was formed by two distinct volcanic events that occurred during the convulsive formation of the moon more than four billion years ago.

If Young and Duke find the volcanic evidence, it will show the moon once had a hot, active interior like the earth. The rocks they collect also might tell scientists why the moon at an early stage lost its heat and became a relatively dead planet.

At the launch pad, the countdown proceeded on schedule toward the planned liftoff of the Saturn 5 rocket at 12:54 p.m. EST Sunday.

Gordon Turner, lead test supervisor, reported there were no problems in the rocket, spacecraft or ground support equipment.

The weather outlook for Sunday's launch remained satisfactory, with a forecast of partly cloudy skies, southwest winds of 15 miles an hour and temperature of 80.

Complaints Found Valid

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Pat Moran, chairman of the state Public Service Commission, said Thursday that substance was found to some of the 25 complaints filed March 15 against the North Arkansas Electric Cooperative.

Moran said Edward Davis, chief engineer for the commission, had investigated the complaints by 27 members of the cooperative and had recommended the hearings.

The hearings will be held in Salem, Mountain Home and Evening Shade.

The 27 members filed the complaints, saying they believed an investigation of their charges would provide the basis for the calling of a special election to select a new board of directors to the cooperative.

Many Tax Preparers Lead Double Lives

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's top taxman says he's discovered a minister, a factory worker and a travel-agency operator among those who lead double lives as unscrupulous tax-preparers.

He did not identify them.

Internal Revenue Commissioner Johnnie M. Walters told Congress Thursday that a tax-return preparer "who comes under suspicion of fraud requiring investigation... is not a tax expert in the true sense."

"The typical unscrupulous preparer has enough nerve, however, to prepare false returns. Some of his clients may have no qualms about cheating, but do not know what they can get away with. Therefore, they contact these 'experts' and if anything is subsequently found wrong with the return by IRS, they try to transfer the guilt for its preparation to the preparer," Walters said.

No one really knows how many preparers are around, although estimates put it at more than 200,000, he added. "In any case, the administration of examinations and the conduct of character investigations for such a large number of individuals is beyond any resources we are likely to get for the job," he said.

Thus, Walters said, licensing of tax-preparers is an unrealistic remedy in the widespread effort to cure the nation of a growing case of fraud involving potentially billions of lost dollars.

However, he said IRS is considering setting a penalty of 10 to 25 per cent of the tax deficiency on a preparer who "knowingly understates income or overstates deductions, exemptions, credits, etc."

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A record high minimum temperature was set Thursday night for the fourth night in a row as Arkansas weather continued under the influence of a large high centered off the eastern Florida coast.

The National Weather Service said the Thursday night low of 73 was nine degrees warmer than the old record set in 1964.

The high temperature Thursday was 89 — the second day in a row for a record high.

The large high pressure center was expected to keep a southerly flow of air coming into Arkansas through today, but a low pressure system over Kansas was expected to begin triggering showers and thunderstorms in the state late this afternoon and tonight.

The Weather Service said the low pressure was expected to begin moving eastward dragging with it a cold front that is expected to cross Arkansas by Sunday.

With the passage of the front, temperatures will return to more normal readings with Saturday's high in the upper 60s northwest to low 80s southeast. High today will remain mostly in the 80s.

Thunderstorms broke out again Thursday night in northwest Arkansas, but no damage was reported.

Thursday's highs ranged from 90 at Harrison, Pine Bluff and Fort Smith to 86 at Jonesboro.

Overnight lows included 64 at Fayetteville, 69 at Harrison, 71 at Jonesboro, 68 at Pine Bluff, 70 at Texarkana, 69 at El Dorado, 71 at Memphis, 72 at Little Rock and 64 at Fort Smith.

Precipitation reported during the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. today included .22 of an inch at Fayetteville, .07 at Hargrison, a trace at Jonesboro, a trace at Little Rock and .19 at Fort Smith.

Calls Medical Situation a National Disgrace

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Dependence on foreign medical graduates to fill U.S. hospital posts is becoming a national disgrace, Rep. Wilbur Mills told doctors today.

The Arkansas Democrat who heads the committee considering national health plans said, "We imported last year about the same number of medical graduates that we produced here at home..."

"Yet U.S. medical schools turned down 13,000 qualified American applicants... because of lack of space. Somehow we have gotten our priorities badly out of balance."

Mills' remarks were prepared for a meeting of the American Society of Internal Medicine.

He said about one in five physicians practicing in the United States today was graduated from a foreign medical school and the proportion, rising rapidly, is already higher in New York, Ohio and some other states.

"The medical profession needs to take the lead in handling this situation," he said.

Mills repeated his views on national health plans, again indicating he favors a system based on private coverage under government standards rather than the all-federal plan advocated by elements of organized labor.

He said, however, he would go beyond President Nixon's proposal for such a system by requiring employers to provide coverage on a premium-sharing basis, rather than merely offering such coverage. And, he said, there should be provision for coverage to be continued during periods of unemployment.

"I think we will call a few tunes, not to put the bureaucrats in charge of health, but to give support to positive forces for change in health care," Mills said.

One possibility, he said, would be to require private insurers as well as government programs to use medical foundations, also called professional services review organizations, to keep tabs on utilization of facilities and services.

He also suggested "a medical group at the national level composed of representatives of the various medical specialties to advise local foundations about current changes in recommended diagnostic and therapeutic practices."

Mills said he would seriously consider the administration recommendation that government payments for new or expanded facilities be denied unless these were specifically approved by a health-facilities planning agency.

UMW Hierarchy Is Revealed

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP) — Annette Gilly's statement detailing her knowledge of the Yablonski murders "has moved us a step up the ladder in the hierarchy of the United Mine Workers union," says Sprague.

Prosecutor Richard A. Sprague added, that "in the course of time there will be more arrests."

Sprague commented after Mrs. Gilly's statement, which drew UMW President W. A. "Tony" Boyle's name into the slayings and said "the union" was behind them, was read Thursday in Washington County Court.

Boyle from the presidency and was about to testify before a federal grand jury in Washington, D.C., that was probing UMW affairs.

"This case will only be successfully concluded when we find out who ordered this assassination and who put up the money," Sprague said. "And I suspect that we will reach that level."

Mrs. Gilly's statement was read at a pretrial hearing for her father, Silas Huddleston, 63, one of five other persons currently in custody in the case. He is charged with murder and conspiracy.

Mrs. Gilly's husband Paul was convicted of murder and sentenced to death for the Yablonski killings last month.

Mrs. Gilly is also charged with murder and originally entered a plea of innocent. However, at a hearing Tuesday she changed her plea to guilty and turned state's evidence in return for a prosecution pledge not to seek the death penalty.

Canada's Parliament to Hear Mr. Nixon

OTTAWA (AP) — President Nixon goes before a joint session of Canada's Parliament today to reaffirm what he terms "the great lesson for all the world to see"—the tradition of settling across-the-border differences without war.

Nixon, in Ottawa with his wife for a 40-hour official visit, is the first American president to appear before Parliament since John F. Kennedy came to this capital 11 years ago.

At a white-tie dinner in his honor at Government House Thursday night, Nixon summed up his approach to U.S.-Canadian relations in a toast:

"Canada and the United States, by their example, can contribute enormously to a new world in which nations can live together in peace, friendship and understanding, maintaining their dignity, maintaining their individuality."

Nixon's public recognition of Canadian individuality was calculated to please his hosts. But summit talks today between Nixon and Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau were not expected to produce agreement on touchy economic issues dividing the two governments.

Canadians have long been bothered by U.S. economic might within their borders. Some are talking about curbing U.S. investments in Canada to guard against domination by foreign firms.

Any moves to settle these difficulties presumably will be delayed until after election contests that both Nixon and Trudeau face later this year.

Arriving at Uplands Air Base Thursday night in a chilly and dreary rain, Nixon told several hundred invited guests: "We respect the separate identity, the right to pursue its own way that the people of Canada desire for their own destiny."

Canadian officials planned rigorous security for the Nixon visit, mindful of the assault last October on visiting Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin.

Explosions in Ireland

BELFAST (AP) — Five more bombs went off in Northern Ireland early today, bringing the number of explosions in the province to more than 20 in less than 24 hours.

The casualty toll since early Thursday included a woman killed and three civilians, three soldiers and two policemen wounded. The number slain in 32 months of violence has risen to 301.

"The Irish Republican Army may have gotten a new stock of gelignite in the last couple of nights," a police spokesman said. "We are back to where we were."

An estimated 350 pounds of explosives went up in six cities and villages Thursday.

A big explosion before dawn today wrecked oil pipelines at a Londonderry storage depot. Other blasts demolished a golf club house in Antrim and a Masonic hall in Castlewellan.

At Dungiven, 20 shots were fired at a militia patrol and in Londonderry British troops came under guerrilla fire twice, but no casualties were reported.

The British administrator for Northern Ireland released nine more internees Thursday, bringing the total freed since last week to 82, but leaving about 800 Roman Catholics suspected of belonging to the IRA behind fences. The men are being held without trial under emergency legislation passed by the defunct government of Prime Minister Brian Faulkner.

Faulkner told a Protestant women's group Thursday that London "seemed to believe that by turning their eye away from the problem they can make it go away."

He was referring to British army policy of allowing IRA strongholds to remain barricaded rather than entering them and arresting the guerrillas. The army believes such a job would require thousands of soldiers and would result in unnecessary bloodshed.

Antitrust Suit Against the Major Television Networks

By MARGARET GENTRY
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department says it will file suit aimed at breaking up network control over television entertainment programming.

The action would rank as one of the government's strongest attacks on prime-time TV shows.

The department said the civil suits will accuse the Columbia

Broadcasting System, National Broadcasting Co., American Broadcasting Co. and a related firm with violating antitrust laws.

But Justice officials refused to discuss ramifications of the suit or to disclose the alternative they prefer.

CBS and ABC denounced the move; NBC officials would not comment.

First word of the government plan came from CBS Thursday.

The Justice Department then confirmed only that suits against the networks and Viacom International Inc. will be filed in a few days. Viacom, a one-time CBS subsidiary, now operates independent cable-television and syndicated programs.

The governments intention seems unlikely to have an immediate effect on the programs beamed into millions of homes because of the anticipated lengthy route to a final court settlement.

The Justice Department said the civil antitrust suits will charge that the networks "have monopolized and restrained trade in prime-time television entertainment programs."

Department spokesmen at first refused to elaborate on the announcement, but, after repeated inquiries, said news programming would not be affected.

"These cases have absolutely nothing to do with news, public-affairs or sports presentations. They are limited to prime-time entertainment programming," said Bruce B. Wilson, deputy assistant attorney general in the antitrust division.

CBS and ABC said, too, that they understood news programs would not be involved.

CBS President Robert D. Wood said the government aims to prevent the networks

"from producing any television entertainment programs or feature films" and turn them into "mere conduits" for independently produced programs.

He said the government apparently wants to hand the program-production role to advertising agencies and motion-picture producers.

"We will refuse to acquiesce in the Justice Department demands, which we believe have no merit legally or otherwise," Wood wrote CBS-affiliated stations in a letter made public Thursday.

An ABC spokesman said the network's position is that the government's intention "is without merit, and we can beat it in the courts."

Construction to Begin

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Ward Goodman, state highway director, said Thursday he had issued orders to begin construction of the substructure on the Ouachita River Bridge on Arkansas 79 east of Camden, and on the reconstruction of a section of U. S. 63 between Marked Tree and Trumann.

H. E. Cummins and Sons Construction Co. is doing the work on the Ouachita bridge under a $982,333 contract. The work is to be finished in 200 working days.

The highway 63 work consists of four bridges on the St. Francis River floodway, which are to be replaced as safety measures.

It also involves relocation of several miles of highway 63. Bradeo Construction, Inc., of Warren and Thomeco, Inc., of North Little Rock are doing the work under a joint contract of $3,425,804.

Appeal Entered Supreme Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Public Service Commission has entered an appeal with the U. S. Supreme Court opposing assertions by the Federal Power Commission that the FPC has jurisdiction over curtailments of gas by utilities when gas supplies run low.

Last year, the FPC asserted that it had authority to determine curtailment policies of gas utilities. The state PSC already was in the process of establishing curtailment priorities on Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co., and its policy came into conflict with the FPC's jurisdiction.

United Gas Co., one of the companies affected by the FPC's jurisdiction claim in 1971, appealed to the U. S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals and the court ruled against the FPC. The FPC then appealed to the Supreme Court.

Questions and Answers

By GLENDA BOZEMAN

Q. I have some doctor bills for this year, and I want to claim the Medicare payment. How do I make this claim?

A. We are sending you a copy of "Your Medicare Handbook." Page 22 of this handbook explains how to claim Medicare payment for doctor bills. You need to complete and sign the top part of a Form SSA-1490, "Request for Medicare Payment." If your doctor is not accepting assignment, itemized bills from your doctor should be attached to this form when it is mailed to the Medicare office. Page 27 through 29 of the handbook list the addresses for offices handling medical insurance claims in each state. Page 25 of the handbook contains a copy of the "Request for Medicare Payment" form. Additional forms will be mailed from this office when requested.

Q. My husband is 66 and enrolled under Medicare. The social security office advised him that he was not eligible for monthly benefits because he is working and earning too much. Can I file on his record and receive my wife's benefit? I am 62 and unemployed.

A. No, if your husband is not receiving his monthly benefits due to work activity, there would be no advantage in your filing on his record, since no benefits would be payable to you. However, if you have not already checked, you may be eligible for benefits on your own social security record if you have sufficient work credits as a result of past employment in a job covered under social security.

Q. I am presently receiving social security retirement benefits. My wife is 56 years old and totally disabled. Can she draw benefits on my record?

A. No. The wife of a living worker is not eligible for benefits on his record until she becomes 62 years of age. At present there are no provisions under the Social Security Act for benefits to disabled wives. Your wife may be eligible for disability benefits on her own social security record if she meets the disability earnings requirements which calls for five years of covered employment out of the ten year period immediately preceding the date she became disabled.

Q. Do widow's benefits start at age 60 or at 62?

A. Widow's benefits may start at a reduced amount at age 60 or at the full amount at age 62, or with any month between 60 and 62. A widow may request an estimate of the amount paid at 60 and 62 to help decide when she wants benefits to begin.

Television and Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — David Steinberg flies to Hollywood today to start intense preparation for becoming a television star—who is anyone with his own series. David is one of four young performers tapped by CBS to head up some summer replacement series.

Odds against moving a summer replacement show to the network's winter prime-time schedule are long indeed. But Glen Campbell made it and so did Sonny and Cher. David, who has been prominent as a guest comedian and traveler on the talk-show circuit for several years, has a general idea of what he wants to do with his five programs.

"I'm inclined to believe that the television audience is greatly underrated," he said. "There is no other way to explain the fact that last year's hit will be next year's program. I believe that people—the audience—are just waiting for something interesting to happen and will jump at it. That's what comedy is, anyway: surprise."

Steinberg, who studied at the Hebrew Theological Seminary in Chicago and has a master's degree in English literature from the University of Chicago, is a quietly satiric raconteur who started his professional career with five years as a member of the "Second City" company. He has acted in Broadway shows and is a bit in the nightclub and the concert circuit.

It was his adaptation of the Old Testament account of the flight from Egypt that caused CBS finally to cancel the Smothers Brothers series.

Later came involvement in a short-lived series called "Music Scene."

"In concept it was sensational," reported the slight, dark-haired comedian. "It came at a time when everybody was overrating the youth culture. All it

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

Cold Husbands Chill Wives
Dear Helen:

I always thought women were the frigid ones, not men. But my husband is completely unresponsive. It's been this way ever since we were married, although while we were engaged, he was super-ardent. From being the greatest lover, he's become the coldest, and we've only been married six months! He says he loves me. I keep myself up—am just as attractive as before, and I know I don't have bad breath or anything.

Maybe I shouldn't have done this, but I've kept track of the time we've made love in the past six months. Total time is less than four hours. Total enjoyment, evidently none. It's just "something that is expected of him," and he makes up all kinds of excuses like being too tired, or having a backache, or wanting to watch a late TV show. He isn't impotent, just uninterested.

If love-making is supposed to dwindle as years go by, I hate to think what our marriage will be like in five years!

Please don't think I'm placing too much emphasis on the physical side, but a woman has to feel loved. My husband is so afraid someone will see that we care that he won't even hold my hand. An occasional peck on the cheek is all I ever get even in private.

I can't go on this way. I don't know if he was just pretending before we were married, or whether I'm too demanding, or...what? Is there any hope? — FROZEN OUT

P.S. Do any other women have this problem?

Dear Frozen:
Yes, many women have this misery. Frigid husbands are as prevalent as frigid wives—and harder to "cure," because they consider it unmanly to seek outside help for a personal problem.

I could make all sorts of guesses here: your husband may be suffering from a physical as well as a psychological blight. But my guesswork would solve nothing.

Instead, I'll suggest that you talk him into a medical check-up—those backaches are possibly all too real! From there, with your doctor's help, aim toward a good marriage clinic. A few sessions with a psychiatrist may do wonders for your relationship. —H.

Dear Helen:
I'm a housekeeper for a 42-year-old, very wonderful, nice-looking bachelor. I've fallen in love with him, and leave him notes telling him how much I care. Somehow I don't get to see him very much, as I'm supposed to leave at 5:30, after fixing his evening meal. He doesn't come home until I'm gone.

I could take care of him so well. He told a friend of mine he wouldn't know what to do without me, and also says I'm too good to him. But he never says anything personal.

I'm a little older than he is. He

'Columbo' Rated Best

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Two top-rated television series, CBS' "All in the Family" and NBC's "Columbo," and an ABC movie made for television, "Brian's Song," dominate the Emmy nominations.

"All in the Family," one of last year's big winners for its satiric view of bigotry, got 11 nominations in Thursday's announcement, with all four stars up for an award and a clean sweep of the comedy writing category.

"Columbo," starring Peter Falk as the plodding detective, got 10 nominations, including best actor, best drama series, best new series, best series direction, and a sweep of the writing category.

"Brian's Song," a poignant story of the close friendship of two pro football players, the late Brian Piccolo and Gayle Sayers, got 11 nominations. Its two stars, James Caan and Billy Dee Williams, were nominated for best actor and Jack Warden for best supporting actor. The movie also won a previously announced Peabody Award.

"The Snow Goose," on NBC's "Hall of Fame," received nine nominations and eight apiece went to "The Flip Wilson Show," "The Mary Tyler Moore Show," and "The Sonny and Cher Comedy Hour."

In all, 224 nominations were made after 14 ballots to sift through the 10,000 individual entries sent to the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences.

must have other women after him, but no one seems to have gotten him yet. Is there a chance for me? —J.H.

Dear J.:
If a man has remained a bachelor half of his life, he's pretty resistive. Don't spend YOUR life hoping for what may never happen. —H

Dear Helen:
About ten years ago, I went around with a great fellow. We broke up. I moved away, then married a man I love very much. We have two children and are very happy. But I can't stop thinking of this other man and the good times we had together. Would it be all right to write and ask him to visit us? —F.M.Y.

How would you feel if your husband asked you that question about a former girl friend? Better let sleeping boy friends lie. —H

Dave Hill Takes Lead W&M Has New Head Coach

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer
PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — "If I can hang on to the club, and get real lucky, I might even make the cut."
"I thought I'd probably go out and shoot about 76, and that's about what I should have had."
"All I'm trying to do is keep from whiffing."

It was Dave Hill at his laconic best, describing his seven-under-par 64 that gave him the first round lead Thursday in the $150,000 Monsanto Open Golf Tournament.

"I was absolutely pathetic," said Hill, who was in the woods three times, found a trap or two, once missed a fairway by 100 yards, but saved it all with a magic putter. He used only 22 strokes on the greens and canned putts totaling 64 yards in length.

While Hill was shaking his head in amazement at his low score, weary Lee Trevino was merely shaking the dust of the long, long tour from his shoes.

Trevino, pleading exhaustion, withdrew after posting a first-round 74.

"I'm absolutely exhausted," said Trevino, who has missed only one tournament in 15 weeks this season. "I'm sure I can't play winning golf again until I get some rest."

He said he would return home to El Paso, Tex., and rest for the tournament of Champions next week.

Hill, meanwhile, had a single stroke lead over husky Bob Smith, who spiced his round of 65 with an eagle three on the 542-yard sixth hole. He reached it with a four wood second shot and ran in a 30-foot putt.

Kermit Zarler had a 66, while Chris Blocker and Jim Colbert matched 67s. All the leaders played in the morning on the 6,679-yard Pensacola Country Club course, which turned tougher for the afternoon players with bumper, slower greens.

Ray Flord and Bob Goalby had 68s and the group at 69 included George Archer, Lou Graham, Deane Beman and Harry Toscano.

Hill, who has been in and out of hot water with the Professional Golf Association and the Tournament Players Division because of conduct, hasn't won since the 1970 Memphis Open. He lost to Archer in a playoff for the Glen Campbell-Los Angeles Open earlier this year.

Pitchers Start New Strike, This Time Over the Plate

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
The only kind of strike will be thrown by pitchers as the 1972 baseball season finally gets underway Saturday.

Every team is scheduled—and anxious—to play ball in the American and National leagues after settlement of the first general walkout in the sport's century-old history.

The 10-day delayed season will at last present a new franchise in Texas, four new managers and some old faces in new uniforms.

The spanking-new Texas Rangers, who moved from Washington, D.C., to Arlington this winter, won't have the benefit of a home crowd at refurbished Turnpike Stadium. They open the shortened season on the road at California.

The Pittsburgh Pirates will be missing Danny Murtaugh, their popular and savvy manager who led them to the world championship last year. Murtaugh retired and gave way to Bill Vardon, the onetime Pirate.

Yogi Berra, another former major league standout, is the National League's other new pitcher. He was given the job with the New York Mets after Gil Hodges died unexpectedly on the day after the pre-opening strike began.

Two other new field bosses this season are in the National League. Del Rice, who was at California and

Short Baseball Season

By HERSCHEL Nissenon
Associated Press Sports Writer
A shortened baseball season will finally get under way 11 days late Saturday, but before the first pitch is thrown the sport has two losers and a count of one strike.

The first general walkout in the history of the so-called national pastime ended Thursday on two fronts—in Chicago, where major league club owners voted to pick up the season beginning Saturday and cancel all games called off by the strike, and in New York, where the player representatives agreed.

The pennant races thus will be decided on a percentage basis, since not all teams will play the same number of games. Technically, the races always are decided on percentage, but games affecting the final standings usually are made up.

In the American League East, Baltimore has 154 games remaining, Boston and New York 155 and Cleveland, Detroit and Milwaukee 156. In the AL West, Chicago, Kansas City, Minnesota and Texas will play 154 games, California and Oakland 155.

Chicago and Pittsburgh in the National League East show 155 games left while Montreal, New York, Philadelphia and St. Louis have 156. In the NL West, Houston and San Diego have 153, Atlanta and Cincinnati 154 and Los Angeles and San Francisco 155.

All 24 teams will lose at least one home game.
The only dispute still remaining—until the year-end negotiations between players and owners on a new basic agreement—involves Kansas City and Chicago in the AL West. Ewing Kauffman, owner of the Royals, says he will protest any games his club has to play against Chicago this weekend because the White Sox disregarded a Cleveland. Frank Robinson, the take-charge player who led Baltimore to the American League pennant last year, is one of the most glittering names with a new team. He was acquired by the Los Angeles Dodgers in an off-season deal.

Richie Allen, baseball's fiery vagabond, will be playing with his fourth team in as many seasons. Now with the Chicago White Sox after a winter trade with Los Angeles, he has also been in Philadelphia and St. Louis in the past four years.
One of the biggest trading sprees in baseball history this year also placed a lot of other household names into other households.
Sam McDowell now is pitching for the San Francisco Giants after several years as a Cleveland Indian; Lee May, the former Cincinnati fence-breaker, now is doing his slugging for the Houston Astros; and Rusty Staub, the favorite son in Montreal for three years, is the new right-fielder of the Mets.

Hank Aaron of the Atlanta Braves continues his assault on Babe Ruth's career record of 714 home runs and Willie Mays, the ageless star of the San Francisco Giants, will celebrate his 41st birthday this May.
Although the Braves possess one of the game's most feared hitters, they don't appear to have the all-around strength to make a show in the West race. The Giants, despite the age of Mays and other veteran players, are in a different position, however.

The addition of McDowell gives San Francisco a starting left-hander to go along with right-handed Juan Marichal—a one-two punch to possibly help the Giants repeat as division champions.
Los Angeles seems to be in an even more enviable position with the acquisition of Robinson and Tommy John, onetime ace of the Chicago White Sox pitching staff. The Dodgers and Astros, who acquired May in one deal and San Diego pitcher Dave Roberts in another, appear to be among the most improved teams in baseball.

The loss of Murtaugh probably shouldn't change the Pittsburgh posture—the Pirates have a mixture of old and young players, led by World Series hero Roberto Clemente. Pitching might be their only weakness, but that's what they said about the Pirates before the 1971 World Series.

Reports Sale of Memphis Pros

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A Memphis newspaper reported in its Friday morning editions that an agreement has been made to sell the American Basketball Association Memphis Pros to a sports promoter, contingent on his ability to raise the sale price.

The Commercial Appeal quoted Avron Fogleman, president of the franchise, as saying the agreement has been signed with Mike Lynn.

Lynn is president of Mid-South Sports Action, a group which has been attempting to secure a National Football League franchise for Memphis for the past five years.

Everyone Glad Its Over

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
"Everyone is glad that the baseball strike is over," said a spokesman for the Philadelphia Phillies.

And that literally means just about everyone—players, management and the man on the street.

People of the baseball world and the fans who love the sport reacted with high enthusiasm and relief after settlement Thursday of the arduous, 13-day strike.

"I'm relieved ... I really feel good about what we're going to play ball," said Chuck Dobson, the Oakland A's pitcher.

"I really feel good," said Joe Torre, the St. Louis Cardinal star.

"I can't explain how I feel in one word, but happy will do for now," said Rusty Staub, the New York Mets' right-fielder.

Happiness was spread liberally throughout the nation and brought smiles all around. People are waiting for the cry, "Play Ball."

"I'm ready to go," said manager Ted Williams of the Texas Rangers. "I'm ready to do some moving."

"We've been working at the wrong things ... we're ready to play baseball," added Texas General Manager Joe Burke. "Everybody is glad to be getting back to work."

"Boy, am I glad this thing is over," said a coffee-carrying night watchman at the Associated Press Building in New York. "I've been a baseball fan since I was a boy, and I really missed it. Forget hockey and basketball."

Johnny Bench, the Cincinnati catcher, said he's eager to start the season Saturday and hopes that there won't be any resentment from the fans.

"There has been a lot of mud slinging on both sides and a lot of propaganda," said Bench. "It is unfortunate it had to happen and I hope something like this never happens again."

Outfielder Rico Carty of Atlanta found out the strike was over while watching television.

"I was like the fellow in that commercial—I couldn't believe the whole thing," said the Atlanta outfielder. "We were out too long. But we just had to stick together and do our best."

Knuckleballer Phil Niekro, who will pitch the opener for Atlanta, heard the news when a neighbor told him.

"Congratulations," said the neighbor. "You're employed again."

Torre, Staub and Dobson all agreed that there might be some alienated fans among the crowd when the season starts.

"There probably will be some cat-calls from the stands when we start to play ball," said Torre, "but I think most of the fans will be just happy that they're there."

Top contenders for the coaches title are Darrell Royal of Texas, the defending champ; Frank Broyles of Arkansas, who

Pacers Can Relax But Only 2 Days

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Coach Bob Leonard and the Indiana Pacers can relax now for all of two days. Then all they have to do is play the Utah Stars in the American Basketball Association's West Division final series.

"This series has been awful tough," Leonard said after the Packers whipped the Denver Rockets 91-89 Thursday night in the West Division semifinal playoffs. "It's been tough both physically and mentally and I can't look ahead to Utah yet. Any time you play a seven-game series like this you've got to relax a little."

Indiana turned back a Denver rally late in the game and got a stellar performance from Freddie Lewis with 20 points and great defense including two blocked shots in the final 14 seconds.

Lewis scored the Pacers' final field goal with 1:24 left to give the winners a 90-87 lead. Denver's Ralph Simpson made it 90-89 with 25 seconds on the clock, then Lewis blocked his two shots, and Billy Keller added a free throw for Indiana.

Roger Brown tied Lewis for team honors with 20 points and Simpson was game-high with 30 points.

The Virginia Squires soundly thumped the New York Nets 138-91 in the opening game of their best-of-seven ABA East Division finals.

In the National Basketball Association, the New York Knicks took a 1-0 lead with a 116-94 victory in the seven-game series with the Boston Celtics.

The Squires' demolition of the Nets was the result of Charlie Scott leaving for Phoenix of the NBA and Julius Erving's announced signing with Atlanta of the NBA, according to Coach Al Bianchi.

"We made up our minds that we had to do it together," said Bianchi.

Erving scored 26 points to lead the attack for the Squires, who moved to a 62-35 halftime lead. The Nets' low totals of 35 half points and 13 second-quarter points were ABA playoff records.

George Irvine scored 25, Adrian Smith 23 and Bernie Williams 20 for the Squires while John Roche hit 26 points. The Nets' Rick Barry was held to just 12 points.

The Knicks opened up a 20-point lead on the Celtics in the second quarter. Boston managed to pull within nine points in the third quarter but the game was all New York as Walt Frazier scored 36 points for a game-high total.

Boston's cold shooting in the first half gave New York a solid 53-36 lead at the half.

Table Tennis Team Down to Business

By MALCOLM JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer
DETROIT (AP) — The visiting Chinese table tennis team settles down to business tonight—a major exhibition match against the American team at Cobo Arena.

The Chinese, who arrived here Wednesday to begin a two-week tour of the United States, spent most of Thursday sight-seeing.

They were guided through a Chrysler automobile assembly plant, met with United Auto Workers President Leonard Woodcock and ended their day by dining in old English splendor at Oakland University.

The visiting delegation tours Detroit today prior to a practice session.

The 34-member delegation exhibited great interest Thursday at Chrysler's Lynch Road facility, which turns out 56 intermediate-size cars an hour.

While noise and language barriers made conversation inside the plant difficult, the Chinese indicated they were impressed. Lu Ts'ung-min, an interpreter, said he found the assembly operation "very complicated."

Workers greeted the delegation warmly, approaching the visitors, shaking their hands and wishing them well.

"We're glad to have you here," said Chester Benning of Detroit. "We hope you come back real soon."

The team returned the welcome by displaying their table tennis talents. After treating American opponents gently, the Chinese slammed blinding drives and hooked wicked curves at each other to the delight of their audience.

Following the tour, the group met with Woodcock. Newsmen were barred from all but the last five minutes of the 30-minute session.

For dinner, the delegation traveled some 30 miles northward to Oakland University and its English Tudor-style mansion. The buffet featured roast beef, lobster newburg and turkey.

Travs to Open Season

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Travelers open their Texas League season at Memphis tonight, and Manager Fred Koenig has picked Jackie Stripling to be the starting pitcher.

Stripling, 10-9 with the Travelers last year, said he felt honored to get the nod.

"I'm not really nervous," Stripling said. "It's quite an honor to be the first man in the rotation. My arm feels good. I'm ready to get it going."

Arkansas played Memphis three times during spring training in Florida and lost all three times.

"Memphis has a real strong women fight desert gales."

Women Fight Desert Gales

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — After fighting a two-day losing battle with desert gales, a field of 39 women professional golfers was hoping for calmer weather today when it teed off in the $110,000 Winner's Circle tournament, the richest event in women's golf history.

Only four players broke par 72 during Wednesday's pro-am play in 30-mile-an-hour winds, and gusts up to 40 m.p.h. Thursday sent the entire field over par. Jane Blalock, Jan Ferraris and Kathy Farrer tied for the best round at 74.

The 54-hole tournament offers a first prize of $20,000, also the highest in the history of the Ladies Professional Golf Association. The field is limited to LPGA tournament winners in the past 10 years and second and third-place finisher since the start of 1970.

Kathy Whitworth, 1971 Player of the Year and the LPGA's all-time leading money and tournament winner, shot a 75 Thursday after a 74 Wednesday. She was matched Thursday by Sue Berning and veteran Joanne Carner and Mickey Wright.

Valentin Barrios of Spain shot a two-under-par 70 Friday to take the second-round lead in the Spanish Open Golf Tournament with a 142. He had a four-stroke lead over Britain's J.L. Hunt and Christy O'Conner of Ireland.

New Coach at Wake Forest

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — Carl Tacy of Marshall University has been named head coach at Wake Forest University of the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Tacy, who in his first year as a college head coach directed Marshall to 12th ranking nationally last season, was named by Wake Forest Wednesday. He succeeds Jack McCloskey, who has become coach of the Portland Trail Blazers of the National Basketball Association.

Marshall lost only four of 27 games this year, and gained a spot in the NCAA playoffs.

The 39-year-old Tacy played four seasons for Davis and Elkins, and was a basketball coach in high school and for three years at Ferrum Junior College in Virginia before becoming an assistant at Marshall during the 1970-71 season. In 1970 his Ferrum team had a 25-2 season and was runnerup to Vincennes, Ind., in the national junior college tournament.

Blacks to Protest Chrome Importation

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Blacks scheduled a meeting today to protest the importation of chrome ore from Rhodesia and to plan legal action to bar further shipments from the white supremacy nation.

Two shiploads of chrome ore have been unloaded recently at Mississippi River ports near New Orleans. The first shipment brought demonstrations and picketing by black college students.

"The purpose of the meeting is to show the rising anger among black people in the United States about the blatant Nixon policy in support of colonial and apartheid governments," said Marilyn Clement of New York, an organizer of the meeting.

The meeting drew representatives of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, the Interreligious Foundation for Community Organization and the African Liberation Movement.

Mrs. Clement said plans were being made to organize a demonstration at Steubenville, Ohio, when barges carrying the first shipload of Rhodesian chrome ore reach there.

The United Nations banned transactions with Rhodesia because of its apartheid policy but Congress last fall authorized lifting of the ban to permit purchase of strategic materials otherwise available only in Communist countries.

Mrs. Clement disputed claims that it was necessary to buy the chrome ore from Rhodesia to avoid purchasing it from Russia. She said legislation pending in Congress would authorize the sale of 1.2 million tons of surplus government-owned ore.

"The government is trying to sell surplus chrome at the same time as they are saying the Rhodesian shipments are essential to the security of the nation," she said.

Michigan State wrestlers beat Oklahoma State and Oklahoma in dual meets this year, marking the first time a Big Ten team has ever beaten two Big Eight powers in the same season.

Spring Brings New Growth, More Work

By ROBERT E. FORD
Associated Press Writer

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — It's that time of year again for husbands.

The first shock strikes when he walks onto the front lawn some morning hunting his newspaper and discovers the first sprig of grass peeping through the yellow winter turf.

He waits a week, hoping the grass will go away or a great drought will come, only on his own lawn, and he will thus not face the spring chores.

At the end of the week, the weeds have popped up all over the place and more grass has come up and he knows his seasonal labor must start.

So he lays out a lot of dough for fertilizer, weed killer and bug assassins.

You have the paradox of a man not wanting grass, yet nurturing it. It is probable that this in truth is caused by conflict with the wife, who insists that the lawn look something better than the vacant lot down the street.

The husband fertilizes, mows, replaces turf the insects have eaten, edges the walks, and runs up his water bill.

Here is a real swing hand from a recent IMP match where the swing was the result of expert play as against good play.

Both tables reached four spades on identical bidding and the first trick was won by South's ace of hearts. Three rounds of trumps were taken. At this point the play diverged.

Declarer at table one led a heart. East won and returned a club. West won with the queen and played the jack of diamonds. Now South played two high diamonds and threw East in with a third diamond.

East led a second club and there was no way to keep West from scoring the setting trick with the king.

South had been unlucky. Both clubs had to be wrong and in addition, East had to hold the long diamond. He had been unlucky but he had also missed the sure thing play.

At the other table South

BE PARTNERS WITH GOD SUPPORT HIS CHURCH

Fruit Of The Spirit

Eagerly we await each new season and the crop of fruit from our trees. We know the harvest depends on the quality of those trees. The Good Book plainly tells us that good fruit comes only from good trees and bad fruit from bad trees.

A human life is like that. And the need is great for good people who will produce good fruit for the common good . . . fruit of the spirit!

Love, joy, peace, humility, temperance and a faith to live by.

We have too much immorality, licentiousness, enmity, strife, anger and selfishness already. These are the fruits of bad trees. One would do well not to allow too much of this harvest on his fruit bowl.

Is your life producing fruit of the flesh because it is world-centered?

Or is your life God-centered and producing Fruit of the Spirit? The Apostle Paul reminds us that good fruit is expected from us. What is the quality of fruit in your fruit bowl.

What kind of tree are you?

Adviser Questioned About Failure of Price System

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's chief economic adviser undergoes questioning today from a congressional panel whose head is convinced the wage-price system has failed, that inflation is out of control and that most Phase 2 restrictions should be scrapped.

The joint Congressional Economic Committee begins the first detailed examination of the administration's anti-inflation guidelines by questioning Herbert Stein, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers and No. 2 man on the Cost of Living Council.

Even before the hearings, there were reports that the administration agrees somewhat with a viewpoint boosted for several weeks by the committee's chairman, Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis.

Proxmire believes most federal controls of the nation's smaller economic units should be ended now and that pressure should be directed on the nation's economic trend setters—the giant corporations which command the largest price increases and the large unions which get the biggest pay hikes.

Proxmire reportedly is prepared to ask Stein these questions:

—How can the wage-price control system survive without the participation of organized labor?

—Why are prices continuing to rise six months after the initial wage-price freeze?

—Why does the Price Commission operate in secret?

—Why are guidelines, regulations and decisions so complicated even lawyers can't understand them?

—Why shouldn't controls be focused on the few big price and wage decisions rather than on a massive and, apparently unworkable, controls system?

—Is the inflation rate any different with controls than without?

Proxmire's hearings will extend through next week. They will feature appearances by the heads of both the wage and price boards and by AFL-CIO President George Meany, the man who led a labor walkout from the Pay Board.

This unusual shot shows a Martin house being raided by a chicken snake. Before he was shot by Ed Cox on the Kenneth Cox place at Fulton he had cleaned out four of the 24 apartments in the Martin house.

Look closely and you can see the snake's tail hanging out of the house at lower right. Nancy Martin took the picture which Charles W. Wylie brought by the Star.

Spend Same for Food, Get Less

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer
The Terrence Snyder family of Los Angeles used to eat steak twice a week.

Now, says Mrs. Snyder, "we have steak once a week. We have more dairy meals, tuna salad, spaghetti, sandwiches and soup. I'm spending the same in the market, but getting less for my money."

Mrs. Snyder's complaint was echoed by women all across the country who were interviewed by The Associated Press early this week as they shopped for meat in large supermarkets.

The AP survey compared prices for three items—pork chops, ground round and porterhouse steak—with the cost of the same meats two years ago. The comparisons varied widely. In most areas, however, prices were 10 to 50 cents a pound higher this week, particularly for the more expensive cuts.

C. Jackson Grayson, chairman of the federal Price Commission, opened hearings Wednesday on rising food prices. "Something's got to be done about this," he said, and reaffirmed his intention "to get prices down."

The Labor Department said that wholesale food prices fell 0.3 per cent in March after big jumps in earlier months. An Agriculture Department spokesman estimated retail food prices will go up a total of 4 per cent this year and said that more than half that increase already has showed up on grocery store shelves.

In New Orleans, the Canal Vallery chain recently was selling pork chops for $1.19 per pound, ground round for $1.19 a pound and porterhouse steak $1.59. Their advertised sale prices at the same time in 1970 were 79 cents for pork chops, 99 cents for ground round and $1.25 for porterhouse.

The story is the same in the Boston area.

One shopper, who declined to be identified but said she feeds her husband, herself and four children on a school teacher's salary, commented: "Prices have gone up, but my paycheck stays the same. What can I do? I've got to cut back somewhere and meat seems to be the place to do it. Maybe I feed my kids spaghetti or pancakes for dinner and then save the meat for my husband and me. The kids couldn't care less. My husband doesn't realize we've had to scrimp."

At Purity Supreme supermarket in Boston, porterhouse steak was $1.78 per pound, compared to $1.28 two years ago and ground round was $1.19 compared to 98 cents. No comparison was available for pork chops, now selling for $1.09.

In Indianapolis, Marsh Foodliners was charging $1.99 a pound for porterhouse, $1.29 for center cut pork chops and $1.19 for ground round. Ayrway Stores featured porterhouse for $1.65, pork chops for $1.19 and ground round for $1.08. Advertisements from two years ago showed average prices of $1.39 for porterhouse, 99 cents for pork chops and 89 cents for ground round.

Mrs. Bee Walsh, a Chicago widow, buys her meat in bulk and stores it in a freezer at a meat locker company. "It's not because I couldn't afford to pay the higher prices—it's a kind of rebellion," she said. "I just won't buy at these prices."

IRS Replaces Card Form

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service plans to resume using the short-form income tax return next year.

Present plans, announced Thursday, are to replace the card form that went out of circulation in 1968 with a new one about half the size of the present 1040 regular form.

The short form can be filled out quickly by persons who want to take the standard deductions.

It was dropped, the IRS said, because people were not taking advantage of it. The reason offered Thursday for restarting the form was "more people don't have to itemize now."

Few Arkansas Withheld Too Much From Checks

By ROBERT SHAW
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Surprisingly few Arkansans so far are finding that withholdings from their paychecks were not sufficient to pay their 1971 state income tax bills, according to the chief of the state's income tax section.

B. Mack Lindsey had expected that many taxpayers who have been getting refunds would discover while preparing their returns this year that they owed the state amounts above what was withheld.

That is because the legislature voted an income tax increase last year that was retroactive to Jan. 1, 1971, but the new withholding charts showing how much to hold out of paychecks did not reach employers until late June.

"So, half the year was withheld at the old rate and, theoretically, half was held out at the current rate," Lindsey said. "That should have meant there was an under-withholding. That was my guess, but it hasn't quite worked out that way."

But he said that in the month that remains before the May 15 filing deadline he expected that the average amount of refunds would get smaller and more persons would discover that they have under-withheld.

That is because of the tendency for persons who anticipate large refunds to file early while those expecting little or no refund to prepare their returns late.

Lindsey said he assumed that many taxpayers anticipated the under-withholding prospect and had avoided such an occurrence by having their employers hold out more than either the old or the new charts called for.

Also, Lindsey said, both the old and the new tables were deliberately geared for a slight over-withholding in order to cut down on collection problems. This may have helped the taxpayer, he said.

Persons who did not make a withholding adjustment quickly enough may find that they will have to dig into their pockets to make up the difference between what was withheld and what they owed, Lindsey said.

Lindsey said he, frankly, had expected "relatively few refunds and a heckuva lot of over-withholding" from the last report of refund checks was about $23, squaking on the new tax," this year. But he said the number of refunds so far just about matched the number of previous years.

In addition, he said that until the last group of refund checks was mailed, refunds were averaging $33 per person, or about $2 more per person than in previous years. But he said the av-

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A Mexican father of eight who hijacked a jetliner, then gave a rambling interview to newsmen as he waved a handgun later found to be empty was described by authorities today as being motivated mostly by personal troubles.

Ricardo Chavez-Ortiz, 37, stressed social injustices suffered by minorities in a long speech broadcast on radio and television Thursday from a Frontier Airlines 737 he hijacked over New Mexico.

But the FBI and other officials said they believed Chavez-Ortiz, who has a history of psychiatric problems, was upset by having been fired from his job as a cook in Los Angeles and by other personal setbacks and was not a racial militant.

Brandishing a .22-caliber pistol, Chavez-Ortiz took over the jetliner shortly after 8 a.m. west of Socorro, N.M., and commanded it for 7½ hours, including more than five hours at an isolated area of Los Angeles International Airport where he had directed it to land.

His only demands were to "tell my story" on radio and television and to see a specific Los Angeles police artist.

After Chavez-Ortiz let the 27 passengers on the flight which had originated at Minot, N.D., disembark, keeping four crew members aboard, a radio newsman and television newsmen and cameramen went aboard and interviewed him for more than two hours. Then he gave up his gun and was taken into custody.

Hundreds of FBI agents and other lawmen assembled at the airport made no move to capture the hijacker before his surrender.

Chavez-Ortiz told authorities he came to the United States from Mexico illegally 15 years ago.

At times during the broadcast, Chavez-Ortiz was despondent, at others cheerful, as he recited a long list of grievances, from unfair landlords to inadequate educational opportunities for his children.

He complained of the image presented to young people by movies and television, saying youngsters were taught to take drugs and smoke marijuana. And he said movie prices were too high.

He also was apologetic, saying he had no "criminal intent" in the hijacking.

Asked how he expected it all to end, he said, "Someday I'll get out of jail and go back to work, take care of my family."

At the end, he ceremoniously turned his gun over to pilot Willie Hunt, saying, "Sir, I surrender to you. This is my gun. It is empty."

He was charged with hijacking and held in lieu of $500,000 bond.

Prisoner Wrong About Bones

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Evidence obtained from a study conducted for more than a year by an Oklahoma physical anthropologist indicates that controversial bones found at Cummins Prison Farm in 1968 had been buried prior to dates asserted by a prisoner.

Dr. Clyde C. Snow, head of the physical anthropology research at the Civil Aeromedical Institute of the Federal Aviation Administration at Oklahoma City, said he conducted the study.

Reuben Johnson, a long-term inmate at Cummins at the time, led prison authorities in January 1968 to a fenced field dotted with oblong depressions and said they were the unmarked graves of inmates who had been murdered during the 1940s. Johnson said the three skeletons unearthed were the remains of Bradley Stevenson, Frank Elder and Reverend Butler.

Snow said he had sent the bones to a British pathologist for chemical dating, which indicated the bones probably had been buried 40 to 80 years.

"Regarding the stature and age of the individuals, they don't match up very well with Johnson's identifications — in fact, they don't match up at all," Snow said in an interview with the Arkansas Democrat.

"For example, Bradley Stevenson was about two inches taller than this skeleton that's supposed to be his. Reverend Butler was supposed to be 59 and the skeleton is about 35, and so on down the line."

The anthropologist said his study began when the bones were sent to him by Dr. Rodney F. Carlton, Arkansas state medical examiner, after Snow mentioned at a meeting with Carlton two years ago that he would like to see them.

Carlton earlier had concluded that there was no evidence available from his study of the bones to support Johnson's story.

A State Police investigation said that the area where the skeletons were found was an old pauper's cemetery.

Appreciates Films
Editor The Star: Thank you, Mr. Washburn, for making it possible for our school to participate in the VEC News Service.

My classes look forward to current event day when the news film is viewed and discussed. While studying education and the role of government, I used the filmstrip, Parochial: Issue for 70's, which was one of the VEC news studies in depth. This gave the class a better understanding of the issue of government aid to church supported schools.

I like the program, and I appreciate the part you had in providing this service to our school. Sincerely yours,

Some Disatisfied With 'Evasiveness' of ITT

By TOM SEPPY
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. Edward M. Kennedy and John V. Tunney have expressed dissatisfaction with what they called the evasiveness of ITT's No. 2 man in Washington at hearings into the controversy surrounding Acting Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst.

John Ryan, the International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. official, told the Senate Judiciary Committee Thursday that one of his duties was to watch antitrust matters for the Washington ITT office.

"You tell us you're supposed to be the listening post on antitrust matters," said Kennedy, D-Mass. "We're trying to find out what you've been listening to."

"I must say in response to questions, you have been awful evasive," said Kennedy.

"We have heard 'I don't know,' and 'I don't recall' a couple of hundred times," said Tunney, D-Calif. "I think you can sense my impatience, and the impatience of the other members, with your answers. It continues to amaze me that you have such a lack of knowledge."

"It occurs to me that there is a possibility that this testimony is something of a smoke screen," said Tunney.

Tunney said Ryan could respond to his remarks if he wanted but, on the advice of his lawyer, Ryan remained silent.

The committee is investigating the nomination of Kleindienst to be attorney general and the Justice Department's relationship with ITT, one of the nation's largest corporations.

Kleindienst asked for the probe after columnist Jack Anderson published a memo purportedly written by ITT lobbyist Dita D. Beard linking the out-of-court settlement of three antitrust suits against ITT with a financial commitment to San Diego for the Republican National Convention.

In Denver Thursday, Mrs. Beard's physician, Dr. L.M. Radetsky, said the lobbyist has agreed to have two heart specialists examine her to see if she can travel to Washington to testify.

"She'll have a heart attack if she goes," Radetsky said, but he agreed Dr. Joseph Snyder and Dr. Ray Pryor could conduct an exam. The Judiciary Committee requested one Wednesday.

A subcommittee interviewed her in the hospital March 27, but she collapsed and the questioning was stopped.

Republicans attempted Thursday to pave the way to have White House aide Peter Flanigan appear before the committee, a requirement Democrats have been demanding in exchange for recommending approval of the Kleindienst nomination.

Sen. Charles McC. Mathias, R-Md., said he has contacted several White House officials about holding an informal discussion between committee members and Flanigan. Mathias said he expected some arrangement would be worked out within a few days.

Democrats said they would not make any comment until they learned details of the proposal.
